

I am a small home based buisness owner. The daily multiple "junk faxes" I recieve are a drain on my limited resources. The ink cartridges for my fax machine are expensive. In the course of a normal busines week I recieve no more than 4 legitimate faxes from customers.

I do recieve over 10 junk faxes. I've found it necessary to turn off my machine so the unsolicited faxes do not print.

This does cause problems with the reciept of actual customer queries.

I would urge any all measures be taken to stop the increasing tide of junk faxes.
